

Exemplary Teaching Award Recipients

Each year DePauw University and the General Board of Higher Education of the United Methodist Church co-sponsor an award to recognize a faculty member at DePauw. The "Exemplary Teaching Award" is to be given to one who exemplifies excellence in teaching; civility and concern for students and colleagues; commitment to value-centered education; and service to students, the institution and the community. This recognition is supported by the George and Virginia Crane Distinguished Teaching Award Fund.

2009-10

Jennifer Adams
Department of Communication and Theatre

Dana Dudle
Department of Biology

Gregory Schwipps
Department of English

2008-09

Barbara Steinson
Department of History

Matthew Oware
Department of Sociology and Anthropology

2007-08

Pamela Propsom
Department of Psychology

Kerry Pannell
Department of Economics and Management

2006-07

Wayne Glusser
Department of English

2005-06

John Schlotterbeck
Department of History

Anne Harris
Department of Art

2004-05

Robert Hershberger
Department of Modern Languages

Tamara Beauboeuf
Department of Education Studies and
Department of Sociology and Anthropology

2003-04

Jackie Roberts
Department of Chemistry & Biochemistry

2002-03

David Field
Department of English

2001-02

Carl Singer
Department of Computer Science

2000-01

Terri Bonebright
Department of Psychology

1999-2000

John Dittmer
Department of History

1998-99

Craig Paré
School of Music

1997-98

Valarie Ziegler
Department of Religious Studies

1993-94

Andrea Sununu
Department of English

1992-93

Tom Chiarella
Department of English