ACCURACY OF HANDBOOK INFORMATION

The purpose of this handbook is to present the policies, procedures and activities of the DePauw Management Fellows Program. Every effort is made to ensure that information in this handbook is accurate at the time of publication. However, this handbook should not be construed as a contract between the University and any person. The policies contained herein are subject to change following established University procedures. They may be applied to students currently enrolled as long as the students have access to notice of changes and, in matters affecting graduation, have time to comply with the changes.

Failure to read this handbook does not excuse students from the requirements and regulations herein.

I. PROGRAM OVERVIEW

Established in 1980, the DePauw Management Fellows Program is an honors program designed for men and women targeting careers in business, management or entrepreneurship. Students combine the theoretical lessons of the classroom with the wisdom of practical experience to prepare for leadership positions in both the private and public sectors of our economy.

Participation in the program is limited to highly motivated and well-qualified students. The program strives to develop graduates that possess the following qualities: an outstanding liberal arts education; knowledge of economics, finance and management; strong oral and written communication skills; intellectual curiosity; an appreciation of ethical issues; and sound work experience. More specifically, the program blends a traditional liberal arts curriculum with real-world experiences, including a semester-long, full-time internship. Students may major in any discipline and are required to take courses in economics, accounting, statistics and ethics.

Management Fellows complete a full-time, credit-bearing internship, usually in fall or spring term of the junior year. These internships must be completed during the academic semester. Summer internships cannot be substituted for the required fall or spring term internship. Interns typically have the same responsibilities as an entry-level (college graduate) professional. Much of the success of the Management Fellows Program is due to this extended internship experience. Students' internships are as varied as the students themselves. Some of the better-known companies that students have interned with include: Eli Lilly and Company; Cummins Inc., KeyBanc Capital Advisors, Salesforce Marketing Cloud and Angie's List. Students have also interned for entrepreneurial firms, government agencies and not-for-profits.

In addition to completing foundational course work and the internship, Management Fellows learn from business leaders and entrepreneurs in the co-curricular program, including speakers in the McDermond Center Speaker Series. Each semester the McDermond Center hosts six to eight industry leaders from a variety of fields. Speakers represent large and small businesses, start-up companies, not-for profit firms and government agencies. Past speakers include:

- Angie Hicks '95, Founder and CMO, Angie's List
- Bill Rasumussen '54, Founder, ESPN
- Candace Hedberg DeBarger '86, vice president, MasterCard
- Jeffrey L. Harmening '89, chief operating officer for General Mills, Inc.
- Bradley K. Stevens '99, head coach, Boston Celtics
- Kyle S. Smitley '07, founder, Detroit Achievement Academy
- Mark D. Miles, CEO, Hulman & Company
- Carmencita "Chie" Abad, worker's advocate and former Gap sweatshop laborer from Spain
- Robert Adler, Commissioner, U.S. Consumer Product Safety Commission
- Jim Weddle '75, CEO and Managing Partner, Edward D. Jones and Company
- Chris Stevens, Founder & CEO, CS74 Ventures LLC
- Sally Ann Zoll '72, CEO, United Through Reading

The Management Fellows Program has graduated more than seven hundred students since its inception, many of whom have become leaders in their chosen fields, including investment banking, marketing, software development, management and publishing. Management Fellows have excelled in the classroom, moved up the career ladder quickly, and successfully completed graduate work at schools such as Harvard, Northwestern, Stanford, Duke, The University of Chicago and MIT. The success of our graduates is proof that the combination of a rigorous liberal arts curriculum and real-world experience prepares students exceptionally well for life after DePauw. The purpose of this handbook is to present and discuss the requirements, policies, and activities of the DePauw Management Fellows Program.

II. ADMISSION PROCEDURES

Admission to the program is highly selective based on proven superior academic ability, high degree of intellectual curiosity and leadership potential and demonstrated interest in a career in business or entrepreneurship, which can include a non-profit or social entrepreneurship focus. To apply:

1. Complete a résumé of activities and accomplishments.
2. Choose one essay prompt listed on the “How to Apply” page of our website. Write an essay between 600-750 words in response to your chosen prompt.

Submit your application according to the instructions on the Management Fellows Program webpage under “How to Apply.”

To finalize the admission process, students must complete a personal interview. Students will be selected for personal interviews based on the completed written application.

In the personal interview, the applicant should demonstrate motivation and personal characteristics that will lead to success in both the coursework and internship requirements of the Management Fellows Program.

LATERAL ENTRY FOR FIRST-YEAR STUDENTS

Current first-year DePauw students may apply for lateral entry admission to the program in December or May. In addition to the criteria discussed above, such applicants must have at least a 3.10 by the end of their first year at DePauw and demonstrate an interest in the Management Fellows Program by attending public Management Fellows events. Lateral entry students must also obtain two recommendations from DePauw faculty or staff members; at least one recommendation must be a faculty member. Ask your recommenders for their permission to submit their names to mgmtfellows@depauw.edu and we will give them access to a Google form to fill out on your behalf.

DUAL ENROLLMENT IN MANAGEMENT FELLOWS AND ANOTHER HONORS PROGRAM

Exceptional applicants will be permitted to participate in both Management Fellows and the Honor Scholar Program. Students will not be permitted to participate in Media Fellows, Environmental Fellows or Science Research Fellows Programs in addition to the Management Fellows Program. Special permission by the director of the Information Technology Associates Program (ITAP) is required if students wish to participate in Management Fellows, Honor Scholar and the ITAP Program.

III. MANAGEMENT FELLOWS PROGRAM COURSE REQUIREMENTS BEGINNING WITH THE CLASS OF 2020¹

All Management Fellows must complete course requirements in the major of their choice, all other University distribution and competency requirements and the Management Fellows core curriculum as listed below:

Courses	Timing
HONR EXP: Business and the Liberal Arts (0.5 credit)	Fall term, first year at DePauw
Econ 100: Introduction to Economics Econ 220: Financial Accounting	By end of third semester at DePauw
Econ 350: Statistics for Economics and Management Econ 280: Managerial Accounting OR Econ 393: Corporate Finance	By end of fourth semester at DePauw
HONR 310: Management Reading/Business Writing HONR 320: Supervised Internship (2 credits, Pass/Fail)	Taken concurrently while on internship, typically during junior year
HONR 400: Management Fellows Senior Seminar	After internship semester
Phil 233: Ethics and Business (May substitute Phil 230: Ethical Theory or Phil 309: Tps: Ethics and Econ)	Any time

SEQUENCING AND TIMING OF COURSEWORK

All Management Fellows must complete ECON 100 and ECON 220 by the end of their third semester at DePauw. In addition, students must complete statistics requirement, and either ECON 280 or ECON 393 by the end of their fourth semester. During the junior year students must take HONR 310 and HONR 320 during the internship semester. This means all course requirements must be met by the end of the junior year, excluding PHIL 233 and HONR 400.

GENERAL POLICIES REGARDING COURSEWORK

With the exception of HONR 320, students must take all courses required for the Management Fellows Program for letter grades (i.e., no pass-fail). All courses required for the program must be taken at DePauw University.

Two academic credits will be offered for successful completion of an internship (HONR 320). A grade of “S” (satisfactory) or “U” (unsatisfactory) will be given for the internship. Any student receiving a grade of “U” will not receive academic credit for the internship.

COURSE SUBSTITUTIONS

Only under rare circumstances will the program director approve substitute courses for program courses, unless specified in the handbook. Students must complete a statistics course on campus, preferably ECON 350: Statistics for Economics and Management. Students whose intended major includes a statistics course may, with approval from the Management Fellows Program director, substitute the discipline specific statistics course for ECON 350. Examples of courses that may qualify for such approval include: PSY 214: Statistics for Behavioral Sciences, BIO 275: Biostatistics, and MATH 141: Statistics for Professionals. Taking more than one of these statistics courses, including ECON 350, may result in earning only 0.5 credit for one of the courses. Earning AP credit for statistics coursework in high school is not sufficient to meet the program statistics requirement.

IV. MANAGEMENT FELLOWS PROGRAM COURSE REQUIREMENTS CLASS OF 2017-2019

All Management Fellows must complete course requirements in the major of their choice, all other University distribution and competency requirements and the Management Fellows core curriculum as listed below:

Courses	Timing
HONR EXP: Business and the Liberal Arts (0.5 credit) ²	Fall term, first year at DePauw
Econ 100: Introduction to Economics Econ 220: Financial Accounting	By end of third semester at DePauw
Econ 350: Statistics for Economics and Management Econ 280: Managerial Accounting OR Econ 393: Managerial Finance Intercultural/Global Understanding course (see below)	By end of fourth semester at DePauw
HONR 310: Management Reading/Business Writing HONR 320: Supervised Internship (2 credits, Pass/Fail)	Taken concurrently while on internship, typically during junior year
HONR 400: Management Fellows Senior Seminar	After internship semester
Phil 233: Ethics and Business (May substitute Phil 230: Ethical Theory or Phil 309: Tps: Ethics and Econ)	Any time

SEQUENCING AND TIMING OF COURSEWORK

All Management Fellows must complete ECON 100 and ECON 220 by the end of their third semester at DePauw. In addition, students must complete their intercultural/global understanding course, statistics requirement, and either ECON 280 or ECON 393 by the end of their fourth semester. During the junior year students must take HONR 310 and HONR 320 during the internship semester. This means all course requirements must be met by the end of the junior year, excluding PHIL 233 and HONR 400.

² Pilot offering in fall term 2015, on recommendation of the 2014-2015 McDermond Task Force.

GENERAL POLICIES REGARDING COURSEWORK

With the exception of HONR 320, students must take all courses required for the Management Fellows Program for letter grades (i.e., no pass-fail). All courses required for the program must be taken at DePauw University.

Two academic credits will be offered for successful completion of an internship (HONR 320). A grade of “S” (satisfactory) or “U” (unsatisfactory) will be given for the internship. Any student receiving a grade of “U” will not receive academic credit for the internship.

INTERCULTURAL/GLOBAL UNDERSTANDING COURSES

Students must complete one course emphasizing intercultural or global understanding and awareness. DePauw’s curriculum is rich with courses that can satisfy this program requirement, making it easy for students to find an appealing topic. See below for a short list of pre-approved courses but explore the schedule of classes for additional possibilities. Consult the program office for approval of a substitute before enrolling.

ANTH 151	Human Cultures
ANTH 251	Latin American & Caribbean Cultures
ARTH 132	Introduction to Art History Renaissance to Modern
ARTH 134	Art of India
COMM 227	Intercultural Communication
CFT 100	Introduction to Conflict Studies
ECON 320	Development Economics
HIST 108	Modern China and Japan
HIST 110	Modern Africa
HIST 112	European Civilization II 1789-present
HIST 116	Modern Latin America
HIST 122	Modern Middle East
POLS 170	International Politics
POLS 253	China and India in the 21 st Century
POLS 254	Government and Politics of Western Europe

COURSE SUBSTITUTIONS

Only under rare circumstances will the program director approve substitute courses for program courses, unless specified in the handbook.

Students must complete a statistics course on campus, preferably ECON 350: Statistics for Economics and Management. Students whose intended major includes a statistics course may, with approval from the Management Fellows Program director, substitute the discipline specific statistics course for ECON 350. Examples of courses that may qualify for such approval include: PSY 214: Statistics for Behavioral Sciences, BIO 275: Biostatistics, and MATH 141: Statistics for Professionals. Taking more than one of these statistics courses, including ECON 350, may result in earning only 0.5 credit for one of the courses. Earning AP credit for statistics coursework in high school is not sufficient to meet the program statistics requirement.

V. ACADEMIC ADVISING AND PLANNING

The University assigns each first-year student a faculty adviser, typically their First-Year Seminar professor, when they arrive on campus at the beginning of their first year. The Management Fellows Program encourages students to review their course schedules with the director after consulting their advisers. This will help ensure that the student's academic plan is consistent with meeting DePauw University's graduation requirements, Management Fellows Program course requirements and the internship requirements.

In order to schedule classes to satisfy the distribution requirements and the Management Fellows Program course and internship requirements, a student should plan his or her academic schedule as many semesters in advance as possible. This is especially critical for students that anticipate pursuing two majors, study abroad, or both.

VI. CO-CURRICULAR PROGRAMMING

The Management Fellows Program's portfolio of co-curricular activities, carefully chosen and designed to meet the needs of students as they develop throughout their four years at DePauw, is a key dimension of the honors program. The slate of events varies by class cohort and is different each term: fall term sophomores, for instance, focus especially on honing their résumé and interview skills in preparation for internship matching the following spring. Program staff distribute detailed schedules of speakers, workshops, and other events to students at the beginning of fall and spring terms.

To receive credit for attending an event, the student must:

1. Attend the entire event. Students who arrive late or leave early will not receive credit for attending the event. If a student is unable to attend the entire event for any reason, the student must meet with the director or assistant director prior to the event date to make alternative arrangements.
2. Turn off all electronics (including cell phones) for the duration of the event.
3. Wear appropriate business casual dress (if required). Business casual attire consists of slacks, nice shirts, skirts, etc. No jeans, shorts, tank tops, flip flops, athletic shoes or hats will be allowed. Students who are not dressed appropriately will be asked to leave and will not receive credit for the event.

VII. PROGRAM INTERNSHIP PROCESS AND POLICIES

Internships provide students with opportunities to work in challenging, professional positions with large corporations, small business firms or not-for-profit organizations. A Management Fellows internship is a full-time position that lasts at least 15 weeks. In addition to opportunities to apply classroom knowledge to real-world problems, Management Fellows gain first-hand experience about the workings of a business or organization. Management Fellows internships must take place over 15 weeks during Semester I or Semester II. The internship must start no later than the first day of classes at DePauw unless the intern has secured approval from the Management Fellows program office. As new employees in their companies, students should not plan vacations or other absences that cause them to miss work days during their internship period. A summer internship can be added onto the beginning or end of a Management Fellows internship but cannot serve as a Management Fellows internship itself. Multiple internships shorter than 15 weeks in duration cannot be substituted for the immersive, 15-week Management Fellows internship.

ELIGIBILITY AND SCHEDULING

Management Fellows normally complete their internship during their junior year. Some students may elect to complete their internship during Semester I of their senior year. Only students in good academic standing in the Management Fellows Program who have, in the opinion of the director, satisfactorily completed internship preparation requirements, are eligible to interview and be placed in an internship. All Management Fellows must be prepared to go on their internship during either Semester I or Semester II of their junior year. Only in exceptional cases will Management Fellows be allowed to choose the semester of their internship. Under extraordinary circumstances, and at the discretion of the director, students may be allowed to interview or be placed for an internship while on probation.

During the semester in which a student is interning, he or she enrolls in HONR 320: Supervised Internship (two credits), and HONR 310: Management Readings/Business Writing (one credit). Because the internship experience is immersive, intense, and absorbing, and to maximize their returns from the experience, students are not permitted to take additional courses from DePauw or any other college during their internship. During their internship term Management Fellows pay tuition as usual. Room and Board fees do not apply during the off-campus Management Fellows internship term.

*Semester I comprises Fall term and Winter term; Semester II comprises Spring term and May term.

INTERNSHIP PLACEMENT

Students begin their internship preparation during fall term of the sophomore year. As part of their preparation, students rank internship preferences from a list of available internship sites. They may also propose internships they plan to seek on their own. In consultation with the director, each student's résumé and cover letter will be submitted to a company. Each student will interview with a representative from the company. Once interviews are complete, the internship host will make selections and notify students. Due to the relationship with internship hosts, if a student is offered an internship he/she must take that internship.

If the available internship sites of the Management Fellows Program do not match a student's skills and interests, students are encouraged to develop their own internships. Students work with the director and their proposed intern host to ensure the proposed internship will be an excellent professional growth experience and will meet all University requirements.

The primary responsibility of securing an internship rests with the student. The Management Fellows Program provides ample support and will give its best effort in helping each student find an internship, but there is no guarantee that an internship can be found for all student. There can be no guarantee that a particular student will be able to secure an internship.

INTERNSHIP HOSTS, STRUCTURE AND COMPENSATION

Companies vary widely in the way they conduct internships. Some firms place Management Fellows in structured training programs. Others rotate the student through two to four areas of a particular department. Still others have the student work on a single job or project during the entire internship period. Sponsoring firms provide internships because they believe in both the Management Fellows Program and the internship concept. While they are often attempting to identify candidates for future employment, in some cases they are providing training from which they expect to derive very little long-term benefit.

Although most work given to interns is typical of the activities assigned to entry-level professionals, students must recognize that a company may give assignments to assess the student's ability to organize and complete tasks and handle a work situation. By showing a friendly, cooperative attitude, students will enhance both the likelihood of getting the most out of an internship and the possibility for increased responsibility in the future. Please remember that the supervisor evaluates an intern's performance and attitude regardless of the level of difficulty of the job assignment. Usually, the handling of personal relationships and learning how to meet various business routines is as useful in future employment as the content of any particular job.

The Management Fellows Program internship sponsors are asked to pay students a salary commensurate with the work performed. These salaries will vary among internship sponsors, particularly between those located in the profit versus the not-for-profit sectors.

In most cases, students will need access to a car for travel between their living accommodations and their work sites.

Although most internships are paid, not all internship hosts are able to pay students. The Management Fellows Program has limited funds to subsidize some internships, specifically in non-profit organizations and start-ups. Contact the program office with questions about how to apply for these funds.

ENDOWMENTS TO PROVIDE INTERNSHIPS

Through the generosity of several donors, the Management Fellows Program is fortunate to be able to offer financial support to some students who pursue internships in entrepreneurial businesses and not-for-profit organizations. For the purposes of determining eligibility to receive funds from the Center, the following kinds of firms will receive precedence: entrepreneurial firms include start-ups that do not have the cash flow to support a sufficient internship stipend or salary; not-for-profits include any organization, company or institution that was not established for the purpose of making a profit and would otherwise be unable to afford a paid intern.

Subsidy funds are intended primarily for students completing their required semester-long Management Fellows internship. However, if available resources have not been exhausted by support of Management Fellows internships, some funding may also be provided for summer internships in eligible firms.

INTERNSHIP SUBSIDY APPLICATION PROCESS

Students interested in being considered for an internship stipend should contact the Management Fellows director. Requests for subsidies should be submitted no later than two weeks before the end of the semester preceding the internship.

- Morehead Fund: created by David and Marjorie Morehead in 1989 in honor of Mr. Morehead's parents, Carl and Margaret Morehead provides an internship stipend for students working for not-for-profit or entrepreneurial businesses and, previously for students interning internationally; examples of recent internship host sites: Fusion Education Group (Grand Rapids, Michigan), Anova Group (Chicago), Bairexport (Argentina), Burson-Marsteller (London) and Cummins India Limited (Pune, India). This fund may also support summer internships.
- Michael L. and Susan Leet Smith Internship Fund: created in 1998, provides an internship stipend for students working at not-for-profits and entrepreneurial businesses; examples of recent internship host sites: Ronald McDonald House (Chicago), and The Wellness Community—Central Indiana.

ACADEMIC CREDIT AND INTERNSHIP PAPERS

Students earn two course credits (on an “S” or “U” basis) for their internship provided that the student fulfills all requirements as specified by the Management Fellows Program director.

This includes, but is not limited to, completing the internship in a satisfactory fashion, submitting all reports and evaluations, and facilitating the supervisor’s evaluations and the director’s site visit.

The director distributes details of the requirement for HONR 320; Supervised Internship at a pre-departure meeting and at the beginning of the academic term.

VIII. CONTINUATION IN THE PROGRAM

Admission to the Management Fellows Program does not ensure continuation in the program. Continuation is contingent upon maintaining superior academic performance, successful completion of an internship, and active participation in various activities and functions sponsored by the program.

To remain a Management Fellow in good standing a student must attain a 3.20 cumulative GPA by the end of the first semester of the sophomore year. Lateral entry and transfer students must abide by the GPA standards identified for their entry semester. This rule is applied as follows:

1. Management Fellows must attain at least a 3.10 cumulative GPA by the end of their second semester to remain in the program. Students who miss this target will be dismissed from the program.
2. Management Fellows must attain a 3.20 cumulative GPA by the end of their third semester or they will be dismissed from the program. Upon review at the end of the primary term (e.g., fall term), a student whose program standing at the end of their third semester depends on the pending final grade in a for-credit extended studies course will be placed on hold until the extended studies final course grade is recorded. A student whose internship participation status is on hold should attend all internship preparation activities but may not apply for Management Fellows internships.
3. After the third semester, Management Fellows must maintain at least a 3.20 cumulative GPA. If a student’s cumulative GPA falls below 3.20 in any subsequent semester, he/she will be placed on probation. A student who is on probation must raise the cumulative GPA to 3.20 in the following semester in order to remain a Management Fellow. Only in exceptional circumstances will the director allow students on probation to interview or be placed in an internship. If a student is placed on probation before their internship semester and is permitted to complete the internship the student will remain on probation the following semester.
4. A student can only be on probation once during their four years at DePauw. The second probation violation will lead to dismissal from the program.

In addition to meeting the GPA standard, Management Fellows must complete all co-curricular requirements of the Management Fellows Program to remain in good standing:

1. Management Fellows are required to attend at least four lectures of the McDermond Center Speaker Series each semester.
2. Management Fellows must attend all seminars, workshops, technology assignment, and complete all requirements specified for their class during the semester.
3. Before going on an internship, each student must complete all internship preparation requirements as determined by the director. Sample topics include, but are not limited to: workshops on résumé preparation, mock interviews, informational interviews, and consultations with staff members to discuss qualifications and internship opportunities.

Failure to meet any of the co-curricular requirements may result in dismissal from the program. Under extraordinary circumstances, at the sole discretion of the director, failure to meet one of the above co-curricular requirements may result in probation rather than dismissal from the program.

DISMISSAL APPEALS AND PROGRAM READMISSION

A student may appeal his/her dismissal from the Management Fellows Program. Appeals must be made in writing to the director within three business days of receiving the written notification of dismissal.

After the initial appeal, students who are still not satisfied with the decision may appeal to the Management Fellows Steering Committee. Such an appeal must be made in writing within three business days of receiving the written notification of the initial appeal decision of the director. Appeals will be considered only if they are based on one or more of the following criteria:

1. New evidence not reasonably available at the time of the original decision; or
2. Procedural error that can be shown to have affected the outcome of the decision; or
3. Appropriateness of the sanctions.

Either the director or the student may appeal the decision of the Management Fellows Steering Committee to the vice president of academic affairs. Appeals must be made in writing to the vice president of academic affairs within three business days of receiving written notification of the decision of the Management Fellows Steering Committee. The vice president of academic affairs will decide whether or not there is a basis for appeal, and if so, upon consideration of the appeal, may revise the Management Fellows Steering Committee's decision or penalty. The decision of the vice president of academic affairs is final.

A student who has been dismissed from the program may apply for readmission after a hiatus of one complete semester. When a student has applied for readmission into the Management Fellows Program the director will take into consideration the following: GPA, Management Fellows course requirements completed since dismissal, attendance in Management Fellows Program co-curricular activities and any other relevant factors available for the director to consider. Readmission is at the sole discretion of the director and is not guaranteed.

ACADEMIC INTEGRITY POLICY

Management Fellows are members of an honors program. Thus, they should maintain the highest level of academic performance and exhibit exemplary behavior in matters of academic integrity. A member of the Management Fellows Program who engages in any form of academic dishonesty is subject to dismissal from the program. Only under extreme circumstances will a student who has been dismissed from the Management Fellows Program for academic integrity reasons be reinstated into the program.

LEAVING THE UNIVERSITY

Any student who withdraws from the University will automatically be withdrawn from the Management Fellows Program. Likewise, if a student is dismissed from the University, he or she will automatically be dismissed from the program. To gain readmission to the Management Fellows Program the student will first need to be readmitted by the University and then reapply to the Management Fellows Program.

LEAVE OF ABSENCE

Any student taking a leave of absence from the University will also need to apply for a leave from the Management Fellows Program, which must be approved by the director in order for the student to remain in the program. If the leave is not approved before the student departs from the University, the student will be dismissed from the program and will need to apply for readmission when returning to campus.
