

HELLO!!!

My name is Cheetara Antionette Hudson and I will be your first-year mentor this fall. I am from Jonesboro, Georgia (about 15 minutes away from Atlanta). I will be a senior majoring in Education Studies with a minor in Psychology. Like many of the students here at DePauw, I am involved in several organizations. I am a member of CLC (Committee for Latino Concerns), Social Programming Task Force, and I'm a football manager. Outside of the classroom and organizations on campus I enjoy taking walks (and the occasional bike ride) around campus, hanging out with friends, going to sports events, and having movie nights with my friends.

I'm sure some of you can't wait to gain your collegiate freedom, while some of you are nervous about being away from home. And that is where I come in. As your mentor, it is my job and duty to guide you through orientation and your first year at DePauw. The first few days on campus are full of activities that we will do together to get to know each other and the campus. As mentors, we tend to stress orientation and the first semester as a time when I am here to help you, but I am always available as a resource for you (even now!)

I hope you are as excited about starting college in the fall as I am about being your mentor. This is my first year as a mentor, so we are both starting something new together. As we know, the reason for going to college is to further your education, but who says we can't have fun while we learn. ☺

I hope you have an amazing summer!! Spend plenty of time with family and friends. If you have any questions about DePauw, my job as a mentor, or me, don't hesitate to email me or Facebook me (I love Facebook messages). Again have a stupendous summer.

I am so excited to meet you all in the fall.
