Use the following spaces to write down your thoughts about off-campus study as you speak with your academic adviser, Hubbard Center adviser, parents, and the Financial Aid office. Your answers will help prepare you to write your personal statement for off-campus study.

Why do you want to study off-campus?

________________________________________

________________________________________

What are your academic and professional goals?

________________________________________

________________________________________

How would an off-campus study experience help you reach those goals?

________________________________________

________________________________________

Which programs meet your academic and professional needs? Why?

________________________________________

________________________________________

________________________________________

What will you need financially to study off-campus?

________________________________________

________________________________________
Eligibility

- A minimum cumulative 2.5 GPA;
- Good academic and social standing;
- Declared a major;
- You can study off-campus as early as your spring semester sophomore year and as late as fall semester of your senior year;
- Apply first to DePauw for approval, then apply to the approved program.

Cost and Financial Assistance

- Students pay DePauw tuition, the off-campus study fee, and an international insurance fee to DePauw;
- Room, board, program deposits and other non-academic fees are paid to the program;
- All financial aid and scholarships apply!
- Merit and need-based scholarships are available for students.

Next Steps:

- Research programs to find the one that meets your needs;
- Discuss with your major and minor adviser(s) to review your program and statement of intent;
- Talk to your parent(s) or guardian(s) about studying off-campus;
- Schedule an appointment with a Hubbard Center staff member;
- Research scholarships and review your financial aid package to create an estimated budget;
- Apply online through Horizons.

Off-Campus Study by the numbers:

- 1 in 5 DePauw students spend a semester off-campus;
- 60 students received travel grant funding in 2015-16;
- 120 programs offered in 45 different countries on 6 of the 7 continents;
- 4.5: Students can earn up to 4.5 credits by studying off-campus;
- $7,000: Salaries of study abroad alumni start $7,000 higher than the national average for recent college graduates.*

Did you know?

- You can earn credit toward graduation while off-campus, including major & minor credit;
- A semester off-campus also earns you and Extended Studies credit;
- Most programs are offered in English and have no foreign language requirement!
- Many programs offer internships and research opportunities in a variety of fields;
- DePauw is a nationally recognized study abroad school! We are ranked #5 out of all 4-year baccalaureate institutions.

Meet your deadlines!

- Fall 2016: November 20, 2015
- Spring 2017: February 19, 2016
- Summer 2016: February 19, 2016
- Gilman scholarships are due in March for Fall participants or October for Spring participants;
- Boren language scholarships have a February deadline for the following academic year;
- Contact the Hubbard Center for additional scholarship information beyond the Gilman and Boren scholarships.