Application Details

The first part of the application will list your personal information.

In this section you will complete the Gender Identity section. Please know that your response to this will be kept private and secure, your response will not be used for discriminatory purposes and you may change this information at any time in the future by contacting Housing and Residence Life at housing@depauw.edu.

Roommate Matching

The Roommate Matching section will capture information about you that will be helpful if you and another student will be housed together. This also allows for students with like characteristics to find you and send an invite to room together. You will also be able to make selections in what an ideal roommate would be for you.

Roommate relationships can be very successful even with two people of very different personality types. Many roommate conflicts arise not because of personality differences but from differences in how each person uses the room that they share. This section gives us some information to help address how you plan on using your residence hall room. We will make assignments based first on your Residential Experience preferences and then Personal, Roommate, and Living Style characteristics.

Study habits*:

Students at DePauw study a lot, sometimes in their rooms and sometimes in other locations like the library. How do you prefer the room atmosphere to be to support your need to study?

- Frequent studying, with less socializing
- Moderate amount of studying, some socializing is common
- Less study, socializing expected
- Study elsewhere, lots of socializing

Room Organization*:

Everyone has different levels of organization in their room. In general, how do you keep your room?

- Very neat
- Generally clean, but with very little clutter
- Somewhat messy and some clutter
- Generally messy and very cluttered

Sleep noise*:

Some roommates prefer to sleep with varying degrees of noise present. How do you prefer to sleep?

- With absolute quiet
- Faint sound are ok
- With background noise (TV, stereo, computer)
- I can sleep through anything

Intentional Communities

DePauw is excited to offer two different kinds of intentional communities in our first-year housing for the Fall of 2020, the Healthy Living Community and Rainbow Community. They are described in this section of the application and you can express a preference for one of these communities. Unfortunately, we cannot accommodate a request for both communities from individual students. Therefore, we ask that you choose only one intentional community. These are options for students and you are NOT required to choose one. Please note that spaces can be limited and will be assigned based on availability.

Choosing either intentional community (Healthy Living or Rainbow Floor) means that your highest priority is to be placed in that community. We will do our best to meet your other requests, where possible.

- If you are interested in an intentional community, you will click the check box next to that community.

- Next you will start to identify your preferences for Room and Floor Types

Room Type First Choice*:
Please indicate your top choice of room type.

Please refrain from making the same selection for each preference. For example, do not select single room for each room type preference. This will not guarantee a single room for the 2020 Fall Term. With limited numbers of specific room/floor types, HRL will do its best to accommodate each student with their requests but there will be occasions where we will need to visit your second and third preferences based on availability.
