

RELOCATION ALLOWANCE POLICY

Group: Full-time, Benefit Status
Faculty and Administrative/Salaried
Effective: Staff January 1, 1999
Updated: November 29, 2021

Eligibility: If you relocate within the first 12 months of employment at DePauw University you may be eligible for a Relocation Allowance. If you relocate, the distance from your old home to DePauw must be at least 30 miles greater than the distance from your new home to DePauw. You will be issued a one-time relocation allowance based upon the distance of the move. If you terminate employment within the first 12 months of employment and a relocation allowance has been paid, you may be required to return the funds. If you terminate employment prior to the payment being made, the allowance will not be paid. If the University recruits and hires more than one person from the same family only one relocation allowance is permitted. The relocation allowance amounts are as follows:

Distance*	Relocation Allowance (gross amount)
Less than 30 miles	$0
30 < 200 miles	$1,500
200 < 500 miles	$2,000
500 < 1,000 miles	$2,500
1,000 miles or more	$3,000

*Distance means the number of miles from the employee's new home to DePauw University subtracted from the number of miles from the old home to DePauw University.

The moving expense allowance is paid directly to the employee, reported as taxable income and is subject to all tax liability at the time of issue. The amount of the moving expense allowance will be included in boxes 1, 3, and 5 of the employee's W-2.

Further documentation of new address maybe required upon request. The employee does not submit moving expense receipts to the University but is advised to keep them for personal tax return purposes. If the employee desires to offset taxable income with actual moving expenses, Form 3903 (Moving Expenses) must be filed with the employee's federal tax return (see IRS publication 521).

The Internal Revenue Service (IRS) also requires the employee to meet certain tests for eligibility of the moving expense deduction. These tests are briefly explained below:

(1) Distance Test from IRS Form 3903 (1997)

Your principal workplace must be at least 50 miles farther from your old home than your old workplace was. For example, if your old workplace was three miles from your old home, your new workplace must be at least 53 miles from that home. If you did not have an old workplace, your new workplace must be at least 50 miles from your old home. The distance between the two points is the shortest of the more commonly traveled routes between them.

(2) Time Test from IRS Form 3903 (1997)

If you are an employee, you must work full time in the general area of your new workplace for at least 39 weeks during the 12 months after you relocate.

*DePauw University does not offer tax advice and encourages the faculty or staff member to contact a tax professional regarding the moving expense deduction.
